

Fast Stream Selection

Work Style Questionnaire Part 2 Candidate Feedback Report

Thank you for undertaking this assessment. This feedback sheet provides a summary of what was assessed and then describes your overall performance, along with some relevant development suggestions. Note that this feedback does not indicate if you passed or failed the online test phase, which is determined by how well you performed overall, across tests, relative to other applicants.

Description

This questionnaire reviews how you tend to learn and develop in relation to the demands of the Fast Stream. You are asked to respond to a series of multiple-choice questions. Your performance is then compared to other Fast Stream applicants.

Feedback on performance

You scored in the above average range compared to other Fast Stream applicants.

Your responses showed a greater focus on learning and thinking about learning than the majority of applicants. This indicates that you have a relatively strong focus on learning. This focus on learning effectively is an important part of making the most of the development experiences the Fast Stream can offer you.

Development Feedback

The focus on learning that you have demonstrated should help provide you with a useful basis to begin your development journey on the Fast Stream, should you be successful in your application. To maintain and build upon this area further, consider ways in which you might get the very most from having an even more active approach to the pursuit of learning in all tasks that you undertake.
